MISSIONARIES TO DO SPECIAL WORK HERE

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. Rhodes, missionaries of the Presbyterian church to Korca, have been assigned to live and work among the churches of the Blairsville Presbytery and are making their home with Mrs. T. M. Daniels, of East Main street, Latrobe.

Dr. and Mrs. Rhodes, who have already begun their work functioning under the "Furlough Fellowship of Service Plan" and will remain in Latrobe for a period of one year.

During their stay here, both Dr. and Mrs. Rhodes will address church congregations, young people's organizations, missionary groups and all church societies telling of the people and their work among them while in the Far East. Their purpose under the Furlough Fellowship plan is to enlist the interest of the various church people and organizations in world missions.

Dr. and Mrs. Rhodes have already now called Chosen, for more than 30 years is the author of the history of the Presbyterian Mission Work in Chosen while Mrs. Rhodes has worked among these people for 34 years.

A graduate of Grove City College and Princeton Seminary, Dr. Rhodes taught school and was pastor of a church in Pennsylvania for several years before his appointment as a missionary. During his terms of service he has been stationed in Syenchun and Kanghei and later was transferred to Seoul, the capital of Chosen where he was made a member of the faculty of the Chosen Christian College. He was also principal of the Pierson Memorial Bible Institute, in that section.

During their stay in Kanghei, Mrs. Rhodes was superintendent of the women's Sunday school, taught Bible and music in classes for women and in the girls' school and was hostess to many callers in her home daily. When they were transferred to Seoul, she again taught a Bible class, trained a choir in the local village church, played for the college orchestra and took an active part in the college's community life and in the mission circles around the city.

Mrs. Rhodes is a native of Pennsylvania and graduated from Slippery Rock State Normal school. She was a teacher for six years before becoming autopsy stated that death was due to a fractured skull and multiple fractures. An inquest will be conducted later.

Troopers Richard Voight and Fred Sargenti of the Waterloo outpost who investigated reported that Kuney was driving north on the Mound road when the fatality happened. His truck was carried nearly fifty feet west of the crossing and the train was brought to a stop more than 150 feet from the crossing. The train enroute from Syracuse to Geneva was in charge of Arthur W. Lumm, Syracuse, conductor, and Benjamin Aikens of Syracuse, engineer. Troopers stated that the trainmen did not see the truck on the crossing in time to avoid the accident, and the engine they said struck the right front door of the truck cab.

Mr. Kuney was a well known resident of this section and a successful farmer. A past master of Seneca Grange, No. 44 here, he was also a member of Seneca County Pomona Grange and a charter member of the Seneca County Farm Bureau. Chairman of the poultry committee of the Farm Bureau for several years, he was also chairman of the Geneva GIF store. He has successfully operated Springbrook poultry farm for many years. He was a member of the Canoga Presbyterian Church, and of the Seneca County Agricultural War Committee.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gertrude Newell Kuney; two sons, Homer and Donald Kuney of Canoga; one daughter, Mrs. J. C. Whetzel of Ithaca; his mother, Mrs. Ellen Kuney of Fayette; one brother, Lester Kuney of Seneca Falls; one sister, Mrs. Marion Litzberger of Geneva; and two grandchildren.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. E. M. Wellberry of Waterloo and Dr. Robert F. Gibbs of Seneca Falls and the body taken to Waterloo.

Missionary Couple Awaits End of War To Resume Religious Work in Korea

MISSIONARIES AWAIT WAR'S END to return to Korea. Dr. Harry A. Rhodes and Mrs. Rhodes, right, are shown with their host, the Rev. Charles S. Owen, Presbyterian pastor, Romulus.

Dr. Harry A. Rhodes and Wife Have Passed 32 Years in Country

Romulus, Feb. 28.—Missionaries in Korea for 32 years, Dr. Harry A. Rhodes and Mrs. Rhodes, unable to return to Korea because of the Pacific war, are at Romulus as the guests of the Rev. Charles S. Owens, Presbyterian pastor.

Dr. and Mrs. Rhodes were sent to Romulus by the Presbyterian Emergency Service Commission, which is doing special religious work in Army camps and new industrial areas. Now that the Seneca Ordnance Depot is practically completed, Dr. Rhodes expects to be transferred.

Dr. and Mrs. Rhodes' three children, all born in the same house in Korea, are entering the mission field. Their daughter, Mrs. Francis Scott, is a missionary in Hunan, China; a son, Paul B. Rhodes, an ordained Presbyterian minister, is studying Chinese in Berkeley University in California, preparing for the missionary field, while another son, Howard Rhodes, has entered Princeton Theological Seminary.

They last heard from their daughter and two grandchildren by cable on Dec. 20. Since that time Hong Kong, near where they lived, has fallen.

Dr. Rhodes reports that 20 American Presbyterian missionaries in Korea have been interned since the outbreak of war, as well as a large number of other foreign white missionaries of various denominations.

We are sympathetic with the Koreans in their independence movement, and we expect that after the war Korea will gain its independence from Japan, Dr. Rhodes said.

Chosen Christian College faculty and principal of the Pierson Memorial Bible Institute. Previous to that time, he was engaged in rural religious work in Korea.

Returning for a visit in 1940, Dr. and Mrs. Rhodes spent a year at Princeton. They expected to return to Korea last August, but the diplomatic situation was such that the American overnment refused them passports.

A native of Pennsylvania, Dr.

Rhodes attended Grove City College and Princeton Seminary and University, being ordained in 1906. For the next two years he was pastor of a church at Cross Creek, Washington County, Pa.

Mrs. Rhodes is also a native of Pennsylvania. Her grandfather, however, came from this section, being a graduate from a college in Geneva in 1820, and a school teacher in that city for several years.

Korea was an independent country, ruled by a king, from 2333 B. C. until 1905, when it was taken over as a protectorate by Japan after the Russo-Japanese War. Five years later it was annexed to Japan.

The Japanese have done a lot for Korea in a materialistic way. Roads and railroads have been extended partially for military reasons, telegraph and telephone systems were set up, streets were paved, water works erected, and a system of schools established. The capital, Seoul, was transformed into a modern city.

However, these good works were offset by the facts that the Japanese governed the country for Japan, and not Korean benefit, and even forced the people to bow their heads at the Shinto shrine.

Dr. Rhodes speaks Korean and has written a commentary in Korean on the Book of Judges, and a 500-page Bible handbook for the use of Korean church workers and Bible students. He was editor of the "Korean Mission Field." He has written numerous books and articles in both English and Korean.

During his stay in Korea, or Chosen, he was a member of the

THE LOCAL SCENE

Old Grad Will Be There

By FLOYD SCHNEIDERMAN

Occupying one seat at the Rose Bowl Friday night to root for Slippery Rock will be Rev. HARRY A. RHODES.

Rev. Rhodes' presence may help to explain one way in which the legend of the little Pennsylvania school continues to grow in all corners of the land. For it has been 66 years since he graduated, but he still retains a link with it. Indeed, he has ferreted out other alumni in this area, as subsequent paragraphs will show.

But Rev. Rhodes himself is as much of a marvel as the fame of his alma mater. He is 89 years old, yet he holds the post of minister of missions of the San Marino Community Church, and is at his desk there several days each week, including Sundays. Here is some information as he gave it recently to the sports department, which explains some things about the school as well.

Rev. Harry A. Rhodes, a retired Presbyterian minister at 2889 San Pasqual, Pasadena, who was an appointed missionary to Korea, 1908 to 1947, was a boy of 13 years of age in Slippery Rock, Pa., when the citizens of the town met to petition the Pennsylvania Legislature to locate the State Normal School (now the Teachers College) in Slippery Rock.

As a foretaste of things to come, the town had a winning baseball team when the first buildings were erected in 1888. Marcus Eyth was the pitcher and Jack Mayberry the catcher. The following year Dwight Morrow (who years later was ambassador to Mexico and whose daughter, Anne, married Charles Lindbergh) was a member of the team while his father was the first principal of the Normal School.

In 1890, when the present Main Building was erected, Rhodes was employed as a day laborer at a dollar a day for 10 hours work. In 1896, when the Chapel building burned, he with other male students stood on the roof of the girls' dormitory while the girls passed out buckets of water to keep the roof wet and prevent it from burning.

Two other members of the class of '98 reside in California, viz., MISS HARRIET STERLING at 336 N. El Molino, Pasadena, a retired school teacher who was Queen of the Tournament of Roses in 1928 and who, while attending school at Slippery Rock, commuted on her bicycle from her native village of Harlansburg, nine miles distant. Also COUNTESS DE ZERUBA who was EMMA LOEGLER from Pittsburgh, Pa. who became a Metropolitan Opera singer and now resides at 1025 Hillcrest Dr., Laguna Beach, Calif.

The town of Slippery Rock is still small (1500 population) but is known nationally because of its name and its winning football team. There is a Slippery Rock creek, a little over a mile south of town. In the last few years the Pennsylvania Legislature has appropriated several millions of dollars for new buildings at Slippery Rock. Had the school been located elsewhere, Rhodes would probably never have been a minister of the church or a missionary to Korea. Now his two sons are Presbyterian ministers and his daughter is married to a Presbyterian minister. Dr. and Mrs. Rhodes, who was Edith Brown of Linesville, Pa. have observed their 58th anniversary. She also is a graduate of Slippery Rock, Class of 1900.

Among the other alumni of Slippery Rock in this area are GLADYS GRAHAM of Prospect, Pa.. She is married to EMIL J. HALLEY, M.D. of San Marino and WILLA HOCKENBERRY of West Sunbury, Pa., who is married to HOMER BRADSHAW, M.D. and resides at Westminster Gardens, 1420 Santo Domingo, Duarte. The Bradshaws were missionaries in China and were imprisoned for three years by the Communists.

TWO MINUTE SERMON

By G. V. ALBERTSON

Text: And the Lord was with Joseph, and he was a Prosperous man.—(Gen. 39:2).

(The text that won a 30-year salary)

GREAT RESULTS FROM A TEXT

Many years ago I organized a number of Sabbath Schools in districts about Delavan, Ill., where we had a church that was specially good about sending helpers. One Sunday morning I visited this church having no appointment of my own at the service hour, and wishing the refreshment and rest that worship where I had no public part would give.

I came near being late—not caring to be noticed—but the preacher that morning was at the door till the last minute and saw me entering. At once he took hold of me and said: "You must preach." I objected strongly, but he would not take "no" for an answer. "You must preach for me this morning" he kept on saying, and fairly pulled me into the pulpit.

Finding that I could resist no longer I began to do my hardest thinking about what text to use, and what subject. Everything seemed to go from me. The service began under the pastor and I sat there blank. My part would soon be on and until nearly the last minute no text could be thought of and no chapter for the Scripture reading.

It was a well-to-do church with some reputed millionaires, and as I looked over the congregation, just in time there came to my memory the prosperity of Joseph in Egypt and the above text. I had used it somewhere before. I was immediately so impressed that there was no longer any doubt as to text, Scripture, or subject which would be "Prosperity." I presently arose, read the Scripture, and offered prayer with confidence I could not have imagined but a few minutes before. Also the congregation could have no conception of what my inward fears—almost desperate—had just been, not having had a moment's time to prepare.

After further preliminaries I preached, and with great — really strange—freedom. Truths, divisions, fervency, came with almost no effort. (Ministers will understand.) The people also seemed to be unusually attentive in listening. After the benediction a banker named William Baldwin came and took me by the hand and asked me to visit him before leaving town. I promised to do so.

On Tuesday I visited him at his bank. He received me graciously and presently said "I have come to a point in business where I can give $500 more a year than I am giving, and am wondering if I should not give it to the work you are representing." Of course I was interested and we talked for an hour or more. The grand result was that the banker took upon himself the salary and fulltime missionary in mountain work—much more as time went on than $500 and kept it up for thirty years.

THE SEQUEL

The banker began his offering at $500 a year but enlarged it as the work progressed to $1500. A splendid young man named John H. Wright, (the full name: John Henry Houston Stonewall Jackson Wright) was appointed — a real "Man of God"—to labor in a needy mountain region of Tennessee and West Virginia. The banker kept up the salary for 30 years, then in a money crash lost his wealth; but the Church Board continued the worker four years longer when he was retired by reason of age. The following are some of the tabulated results of this consecrated worker which have made the names of WILLIAM BALDWIN and JOHN WRIGHT GREAT—plus a wonderful text, viz:

Miles traveled — (Horseback — buggy — model T Ford)—312,104.

Families visited—51,700.

Addresses and sermons delivered—10,700.

Sunday Schools organized—330.

Sunday Schools visited—3,380.

Souls saved—3,100.

Pages of Christian literature distributed—3,501,000.

Bibles, Testaments, and Gospels sold and given—6,000.

Presbyterian Churches and Chapels erected—22.

Presbyterian Churches organized—18.

Barrels and boxes of clothing distributed to poor—150.

(And of course thousands of wayside ministries to young and old.)

A TRUE BIBLE STORY

Now the writer believes this many-sided episode to be a real Bible story, with God's gracious hand featuring every part. Who could honestly think otherwise?

(After reading this sermon please hand it to a friend.)

MEMORIAL MINUTE

Rev. Harry Andrew Rhodes

1875-1965

The Commission made record of the death of Dr. Harry A. Rhodes on June 16, 1965, at his home in Pasadena, California, at the age of ninety years. Dr. Rhodes served as a missionary in Korea under the then Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America from 1908 to the year of his retirement in 1946.

Harry Andrew Rhodes was born in East Brook, Pennsylvania on September 11, 1875. He graduated from Slippery Rock Normal School in 1898. He taught school from 1894 to 1901 successively in Butler and Lawrence County Schools, Beaver Falls High School; and served as superintendent of schools in Louisville, Pennsylvania.

After graduating from Princeton Theological Seminary and receiving an M.A. degree from Princeton University in 1906 he served as pastor of the Cross Creek Presbyterian Church in Washington County, Pennsylvania. He married Miss Edith Brown of Linesville, Pa. in 1906.

Dr. Rhodes went to Korea in 1908 and served as an evangelist in the remote mountain town of Kangkei for six years. He was then transferred to the city of Syenchun for a brief period before going to Seoul to join the staff of Chosen Christian College (now Yunsei University) where he taught until 1932. From 1933 to 1940 he was assigned to the task of itinerant evangelism in the country district adjoining the city of Seoul. He also taught in the Pierson Bible Institute, and served there as principal for a time.

Dr. Rhodes also devoted his fine and varied abilities to other important missionary activities in Korea. He served as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Korea Mission from 1937 to 1939. He served for a time as editor of the English magazine "Korea Mission Field," and the Korean paper "The Christian Messenger." He wrote the important "History of the Korea Mission," the first volume covering the years 1884 to 1934, the second volume, the years 1934 to 1950. He also published the books "Travels in Bible Lands" and "A Brief History of Christianity in Korea" in the Korean language.

After retirement from missionary service in Korea, Dr. Rhodes continued active in Christian service in this country, holding war-time pastorates in Romulus and Canoga, New York; Smyrna Beach, Florida; Pismo Beach, California; Wildwood, New Jersey; Ravenwood, West Virginia. He later served as minister of missions in the Community Presbyterian Church, San Marino, California, until the year of his death.

The example of life-long Christian service of Dr. Rhodes is being followed in the lives of his three children. Daughter Helen is married to Rev. Francis Scott who is serving in a pastorate in this country, as are also the two sons Paul and Howard.

The spirit of Dr. Rhodes' life-long devotion to the service of the Lord is well-expressed in lines which he wrote in 1921:

"Often I wish I could cry out some arresting word to the multitude. Rapidly as Mission work has grown in Korea, it seems slow when we think that in spite of years of service of hundreds of missionaries, thousands of Korean leaders, and tens of thousands of Korean Christians, one generation almost has passed away and ninety per cent of them out of Christ... Meanwhile as an ambassador of Christ, within the short span of years which I live and labor, the path that I am to follow is well marked out. I am to be a witness whether to many or to few, whether by preaching or by teaching, whether by stroke of pen or by word of mouth, and most of all by living the life of Him whose I am (and whom) I serve."

The Commission expresses its gratitude to God for the life and witness of this faithful servant of Jesus Christ.

Marietta High Graduates Its Largest Class

Diplomas Presented Record Class Of 366 Members

Principal Robert Sutton briefly addressed Marietta High School's largest graduating class, 366 members, in Ban Johnson Field House last night at the school's 113th Commencement. He complimented the graduates on their past accomplishments, and wished them continuing success in life.

Recognition was given the six co-valedictorians: Phyllis Bennett, Stacy Evans, James Miller, Teresa Pfaff, James Good and Jennifer Starkey.

Dr. Max Evans, superintendent, presented trophies to Phyllis Bennett and Stacy Evans, who had the highest scholastic averages.

He expressed his appreciation to Mrs. Maurine Neale, who is retiring this summer, for her 16 years as a teacher in Marietta. Richard Christy, senior class president, presented Mrs. Neale a gift from the Class of 1965 and all other pupils at Marietta High School.

Principal Sutton presented the class and Richard Smith, president of Marietta City Board of Education; John Burnworth, vice president, and Cecil Thomas, past president, presented diplomas.

Graduating with honors were William Ferguson, Cheryl Bickert, Terrence Morris, Anne Wickham, Thomas Robinson, Charles Weber, Susan Householder, Bernice Sword, Connie Hayes, Frank Christy, Sandra Lyles, Jeffrey Sauer, Janet Zoller.

Also Carolyn Cross, Melanie Folger, Lana Moorehead, Roger Miller, Barbara Ross, Karen Hall, Suzanne Schneider, Carolyn Bleakley, Sharyn Cline, James Steel, Gary Cogswell, Susan Galer, Sandra Dennis and Larry Sarver.

Susan Lallathin, student council president, led the Pledge of Allegiance, and Richard Christy gave the welcome. The Rev. Floyd W. Powell pronounced the invocation and benediction.

Marietta High School Band played the processional, recessional, "A Festival Prelude," and the "Star Spangled Banner." The high school choir sang "The Halls of Ivy," "Onward Ye Peoples," and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

MHS Orchestra played "Song of Jupiter," and three Hungarian songs from "For Children." Flowers on the stage were in memory of Randy Turner and were presented by his parents.

At 113th MHS Commencement

Korean "Angelus"

Kim Ki Chung

The artist, KIM KI CHANG, is a famous Korean painter, winner of many national exhibitions. His wife also is a painter who has won similar honors. Mr. Kim is totally deaf, but learned to speak many years ago through the help of missionary friends. At present both Mr. and Mrs. Kim are in the United States for a year of exhibitions and study of art work available there. Mr. Kim expects to hold an exhibit at the YMCA in Honolulu, Hawaii, November 10-20. Another will be held under the auspices of the Asia Foundation in New York City sometime in February, 1965. In March, his paintings will be shown in a private gallery in Washington, D. C. Shows will also be held in San Francisco, Chicago, Boston, and other cities.

Mr. Kim has painted a series on the life of Christ, with all characters depicted as Korean in Korean settings. These make Christ very real as the Lord of all mankind, belonging to men everywhere. By request, he has used the theme of the famous "Angelus" to depict the worship and devotion of the simple Korean farmer in a typically Korean background. This is our Christmas greeting to you.

The Christmas card is made so that it can be reversed, folded inside out, for use as a desk calendar with the Korean picture on the right.

As we leave Washington, Pat and I want to express our appreciation for the privilege of spending fourteen memorable years in the nation's capital and for your friendship and support in the campaign of 1960.
